

Granada

... is dominated by the backdrop of the Sierra Nevada mountains and The Alhambra Palace. The intricate Moorish architecture and the elaborately designed and immaculately maintained gardens explain why this is Spain's most popular visitor attraction. There are rewarding views of the city of Granada, an attractive city with many interesting sights and attractions. It has all the usual facilities of a European city including excellent nightlife (including flamenco shows) and shopping.

Beaches

And of course, you are never far away from an array of beaches, from quiet secluded coves to busier resort towns. There are just so many to choose from, which will be your favourite? With the Andalucian climate, you can be sure you will be able to enjoy them.

Spain...but not as you know it!!

Casa Buena Vista is a traditional Spanish village cottage, recently restored but full of character, in a remarkable, scenic and atmospheric area of Andalucia. With stunning views from the new roof terrace, it is situated in the peaceful and beautiful Lecrin Valley.

It is ideally located being only 40 minutes drive from uncrowded beaches on the Costa Tropical coast (Salobrena and Almunecar), yet also only 35 minutes drive from the historic city of Granada and the Alhambra Palace. What's more, the Sierra Nevada mountains (ski-ing and winter sports) and the Alpujarras (walking and mountain villages) are visible and within easy reach.

An ideal holiday base for a family or holiday party with varied interests, or for relaxing into and enjoying Spanish village life. Plenty to see and do all year round!

Easily accessible from the UK to three local airports; Granada (under 1 hour's drive – Ryanair), Malaga and Almeria (around 2 hours—various budget airlines).

Your accommodation

Casa Buena Vista retains many original features including beams, fireplace (with wood burner), wooden shuttered windows and traditional decor. It will sleep 4 adults and 2 children, and has a washing machine, microwave, satellite TV (not Sky premium channels), DVD player and Playstation with selection of games.

You will, however, want to spend most of your time enjoying the views (over the adjacent citrus farm or down the valley towards the Sierra Nevada), soaking up the sun or perhaps having a barbecue on the new roof terrace.

Saleres

Casa Buena Vista is in Saleres, a small hillside farming village which has changed little over the years. The village is characterised by white walled houses lovingly tended by their owners, narrow attractive streets where you are more likely to meet a donkey than a car, and several viewpoints over the area.

Casa Buena Vista is peacefully located at the far end of the village, leaving you energised to explore the extensive attractions of this area of Spain. All the usual amenities are close at hand in neighbouring villages, with regular deliveries of essential items to Saleres itself.

The Lecrin Valley

The hilly landscape is planted with orange, lemon, olive and almond trees, and huge Lake Beznar sits in the bottom of the valley. To complete this idyllic picture, white villages are dotted in the valley's nooks and crannies. A truly outstanding combination.

The Sierra Nevada mountains and The Alpujarras

As shown above, the valley looks out onto the Sierra Nevada mountains, whose highest peak (Mulhacen) remains snow-capped between December and May. Given the climate in the valley, you will find this hard to believe and is a stunning sight.

The mountains provide the opportunity for Exploration and, in season, a variety of winter sports can be arranged on an ad hoc basis.

Even closer are The Alpujarras, a range of smaller hills ideal for walking on the many paths, or just driving between the villages enjoying the dramatic locations, white houses draped in flowers, bars, restaurants and enticing shops selling local arts, crafts and produce for enjoyment on your visit or at home.
